Q-Link's Anniversary Giveaway Offers Continue This Month

QMania has gripped the Q-Link Community like no other giveaway program in our history, and if you've haven't caught the fever yet, there's still time to get in on the chance to win big prizes!

QMania is part of our ongoing anniversary celebration, which honors Q-Link's three years of service. The QMania "Go for Your QGoal" game is in appreciation of your enthusiastic usage, and we're awarding prizes that go up in value depending on the time you spend online between October and the end of this month.

If you scored at least three Plus hours from July to September, you qualify for "Go for Your QGoal."

Prizes vary from Q-Link t-shirts to a Magnavox VHS VCR with remote control, and the more time you spend online, the bigger the prizes get!

Rabbit Jack Joins the QMania Madness!

RabbitJack, the proprietor of RabbitJack's Casino, has gotten in on the QMania giveaways, too!

For the first time, you can download the RabbitJack's Casino program online in Just For Fun's Casino Club! And, RabbitJack will be giving away some special prizes this month in addition to the usual Q-Chips!

For the latest updates on the QMania phenomenon, check out the QMania and Tonight option in all departments except People Connection.

Dear Editor:

I'm really confused by one aspect of the Software Picks page. The file locations you list in your Top Picks and SysOp Picks all lead through CIN's Computing Support Groups. Aren't the files in the Support Group libraries exactly the same ones that are available in the Software Libraries on the main menu of CIN? If so, why do you give the path that goes through the Support Groups?

Seanie,
Louisa, VA

You're absolutely right, Seanie! The files in the CIN Support Groups are the same ones you can download from the general Software Libraries of the Commodore Information Network and the Commodore Software Showcase. We use the download paths that lead through the Computing Support Groups so that, if you have a question about a specific file or have trouble using it, you can ask for help and advice from members of the Support Group who have probably used the program before and know the most about it.

Dear Editor:

I must comment on the consumer satisfaction policy of Q-Link (Customer Relations, October Update). I was overwhelmed by the quick and satisfying response of the online Customer Service Center. JennyC not only explained how to get credit for lost download time, but also followed up with another message that told me my request for reimbursement was satisfied.

Thanks to the staff and directors of Q-Link for understanding consumer satisfaction!

JamesF16,
Albany, GA

Thanks James, it's always nice to hear when we've been helpful! Remember, if you need help, you can post a message on the help boards in the Customer Service Center's Members' Online Guide. If you don't know which board to post your questions on, just send E-Mail to JennyC — either way, you'll receive an answer to your question within 24 hours!

Dear Editor:

I have been a member of Q-Link for several years and have had nothing but fun with this service. I was at a loss when my mother moved from Houston, Texas to Easton, Pennsylvania. I am terrible at writing and hate how slow the mail is, so I bought my mother a Commodore 64 (twin of mine) so we could Q-Link together. We now play games online and the E-Mail is faster than a speeding bullet!

I have done my part — how about you guys buying her a printer?

Ent,
Houston, TX

AdventureLink℠ Brings You Online Role-Playing Excitement

The games are different for every player, and game conditions can change each time you play, providing new challenge and leading to your ultimate victory!

You can be on the cutting edge of online gaming technology with Q-Link's new AdventureLink℠! AdventureLink contains text adventure games that not only vary the action depending on the choices you make, but change the odds the more often you play! And you'll find it only on Q-Link!

Enter the Realm of Adventure

AdventureLink debuted last month, and it's quickly become one of the most popular areas online. You can choose from a variety of online role-play adventures, and even more games are currently in the works. At each turn in the action, you can choose what direction your adventure takes by selecting from a host of different possibilities.

With each selection, you are taken to a different situation where your adventure continues. You move from situation to situation, trying to complete the adventure and score the highest possible point total. With most of the games, you can check your progress by calling up your score as you go, and you can repeat an adventure as many times as you want to improve your score. The top ten scorers for each adventure will find their name listed on The Leader Board which appears at the end of the game!

Probabilities Change as Your Skills Increase

AdventureLink challenges differ from other text adventures when the probability factor comes into play. When you play the game repeatedly using the same screen name (which serves as your adventure "character" name), your character's abilities grow when you make the right choices, and the odds shift in your favor. That means the games are different for every player, and game conditions can change each time you play, providing new challenge and leading to your ultimate victory!

"AdventureLink grew out of Quantum's desire to do more online for role-players, as well as to introduce people who haven't done it before to the thrill of role-playing," says Quantum Assistant Producer Rick Mulligan, who manages AdventureLink. Rick also contributed some of the first adventures, including The Time Storm (see box). "AdventureLink has games with skill levels for beginners, intermediate players and advanced players. The beginner's game can be played in a few minutes, and the advanced games can take an hour or more."

Write Your Own Adventure!

Perhaps the most exciting feature of AdventureLink is that you can write your own adventure games using StoryLine and upload them to Q-Link. If your story looks good to us, we'll add it to the other adventures online!

To learn how to write your own games, choose the How to Design a Game option in AdventureLink. You'll find instructional text and a file to download that shows you how to write and format a game so you can send us a polished final adventure of your own!

You'll want to get in on the game-building excitement right away, because this month AdventureLink is sponsoring a "Design Your Own Game" Contest. There will be prizes for the designers of the winning adventures in each skill level — if your game is the best of its skill level, you'll win Q-Pons that you can redeem in The Winner's Circle for commercial software!

If you've you've never tried an adventure game before, AdventureLink is a great place to give it a go. And if you already love role-playing action, take a stab at creating a game of your own. You could see your game online in AdventureLink!

(Just For Fun/Entertainment Center/AdventureLink)

Enter "The Time Storm" If You Dare!

Your adventure begins 500 years in the future, and time travel will never be the same! In this AdventureLink game, you are an agent for the Chronos Corps, the organization responsible for policing time travel to make sure no one alters recorded history.

But trouble's afoot — an evil terrorist codenamed Overlord has stolen the Master Time Crystal, which allows unlimited time travel capabilities. Your mission is to track down Overlord and retrieve the Time Crystal before he uses it to wreak havoc on history as we know it!

"The Time Storm" is a three-part adventure with sections for each skill level (Beginner, Intermediate, and Advanced). Enter The Time Storm now — history waits for no one, and time is running out!

Commodore Information Network

Presenting Q-Link's Omega-Q:

The Last Disk Utility You'll Ever Need!

The name says it all — Q-Link's Omega-Q file is the last disk utility you'll ever need to perform the most often used disk operations, in just a few easy steps!

Many of the Q-Link public domain software files in the Commodore Information Network are made up of several separate files or "squeezed" or condensed in some way to make downloading faster. They take up fewer blocks on your disk, but need to be "unsqueezed" or dissolved back into their original state before they can be used. This usually requires a specific companion file that you download and use for the chore — sometimes a frustrating and confusing task.

But no more! Omega-Q, available in CIN's Software Libraries in the Q-Link Utilities area and the Downloader's Starter Kit, is a single utility that will boot and dissolve just about any file you download from Q-Link's Software Libraries.

Dissolving Files is a Snap!

Omega was created exclusively for Q-Link by Robert A. Stoerrle (QName: Malakai), and it's remarkably easy to use. The Omega-Q file combines nearly all the incompatible versions of the archiving utilities and simplifies the programs for easy operation.

The simple, menu-driven file works much like Q-Link — just move the checkmark to the command you need and press the F1 key. Documentation and simple instructions are included.

You can also use Omega for formatting disk set-up, loading programs, reading disk directories, reading and printing text files, and a variety of other disk "housekeeping" activities. The Omega-Q file is available only on Q-Link, and it's a boon to beginning downloaders and experts alike. Download Omega to your Program Disk just once — and make dissolving programs a snap forever more!

Game Room Now Open Nightly for Game-Playing Advice

The Game Room, a lively discussion area for gaming enthusiasts, is now open every night of the week!

That's right — seven nights a week, from 9 p.m. until midnight, you can go to the Game Room, located in CIN's Conference Center, and discuss your favorite commercial and public domain game programs with other fans of adventure, cards and chance, and sports software. The room is hosted by members of the Commodore Information Network's Game World Support Group. They can give you expert answers to your gaming questions and solutions to program problems. Or just drop by to exchange hints and tips with fellow gamers! The mood is informal and the talk is fun and informative!

SID Music:

Q. How do I use a SID Player to play music?

A. Your Commodore has the best music capability of any 8-bit personal computer, and SID music players have many options that let you do more than just play music.

If the music file you download is a combination file (more than one program combined with related ones), first you must "unarc" or dissolve the SID file. This can be accomplished by loading and running the file, or by using Q-Link's new Omega-Q utility (see page 5). Then you need to load and run a SID player program. The best one currently out is strplayer10.sda by Mark A. Dickenson (Mark ADII). The stereoplayer can be found in the Music Room's SID Utilities library. The player is a combination of several files; load and run it, and the stereoplayer and its related files will be written to your disk. Simply load and run the "stereo boot" file, and the SID player will prompt you to insert the disk with the SID music files you wish to play. You're almost there!

Insert the disk you have your music files on and press the <RETURN> key. You'll see a list of music files on your disk — you can play any of them just by using the cursor keys to move the checkmark to the one you wish to play. Then press the F1 key, or the F3 key to play all the files. That's it! Enjoy the music!

Get in the Season's Spirit With Family Center Holiday Celebrations

Just in the nick of time, Just For Fun's Family Center offers a week of holiday activities that will remind you of good times past and set the tone for this year's celebrations. And as an added benefit, you can win Q-Pons to be redeemed in the Winner's Circle!

The fun begins Monday, December 12 at 9 p.m. in the Family Center Conference room and continues through Sunday, December 18. Every night at 9, two hours will be devoted to the evening's special holiday event:

Monday, December 12 — Join the Family Center Singers for an evening of holiday caroling!

Tuesday, December 13 — "My Favorite Holiday Music" night. Compare your opinions on the season's most-heartening songs with others. Is Nat King Cole's "The Christmas Song" your favorite? Elvis Presley's "Blue Christmas?" Or the melancholy "What Are You Doin' New Year's Eve?" We'll be discussing styles, artists and titles all evening long.

Wednesday, December 14 — Share with the rest of the gang on "What I Want This Year" night. Does world peace top your list? And end to hunger? Or is it something a little more managable, like a Commodore 128?

Thursday, December 15 — "Holiday Memories" night. Reminisce about that special Christmas or Hannakuh memory you'll always treasure.

Friday, December 16 — "My Favorite Christmas." Recall that special gift or holiday when you were overwhelmed with a sense of peace and goodwill!

Saturday, December 17 — "Scrooge Night." Enough already with this holiday goodwill business — this is your chance to sound off about what's bugging you during this "season of cheer." Bah! Humbug!

Sunday, December 18 — Ending the week on a positive note, we'll take a look at "Holiday Traditions." How does your family celebrate the holidays year after year?

Don't forget to pay a visit to the special Family Center message board, My Holiday Plans, to let your Q-Link friends know how you'll be celebrating the final days of 1989!

Win Cash Prizes in the Crossroads Cafe

Holiday Story Writing Contest

Have a Holiday Story turning over in your mind that you just haven't been inspired to write down? The Crossroads Cafe now provides the inspiration for committing that story to print — you could win the $50 First Prize in the Crossroads Cafe Holiday Story Contest!

Submit your story to the Story Contest message board in the Cafe. If your story is judged to be the best by the Cafe judges, you'll win $50 to help out with those post-holiday bills. Second prize is $25, and the third prize winner will receive $15. Contest details are available in the Contest Rules area of the Holiday Story Contest area.

Join the Cafe Carolers

This Month in People Connection

The Crossroads Cafe Carolers will be making the rounds in People Connection starting December 1, spreading joy and merriment wherever they go!

There's no telling where the merry carolers will show up next — they'll roam from room to room, singing some of the season's favorites tunes. If you should run into them, join the group! More details are available in the Cafe Bulletins area of Just For Fun's Crossroad's Cafe.

RabbitJack Casino

Hit the Casino Big Time at RabbitJack's Blackjack Tables

In the last of a 4-part series on the Casino games, we look at the old Las Vegas favorite, Blackjack.

King and a two — You've seen five face cards and two 10's go by already. Do you hit? Dealer's got a Jack showing — wonder what the odds are of that down card being a 7, 8 or 9? Should you stand? Or go for it all, and double down?

Welcome to RabbitJack's Casino® Blackjack, where you get the thrill of Vegas betting in your home. You can watch your fortunes rise and fall with those of up to four other players at your Blackjack table.

Blackjack is one of the few Casino games where it's easy to beat the odds, so if you know any special winning method such as card counting, come on in an use it. We encourage it!

Every Monday evening at 10 p.m. a QRJ is on hand to host all of your favorite Blackjack specials for extra Q-Chips! You can also win prizes, including Plus time, by playing in the weekly Blackjack tournaments. Join us Thursdays at 9 p.m. and Sundays at 3 and 9 p.m. for the best in Blackjack action!

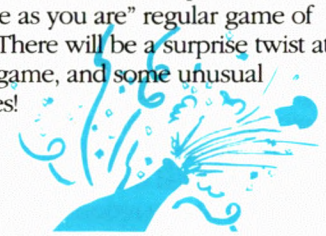
In addition to the usual great casino fun, there are three special events taking place at RabbitJack's this month!

The Joint Will Be Hopping Casino Night December 2!

Join RabbitJack and all the QRJ's for another night of non-stop specials! Meet RJ in the Auditorium December 2, at 9 p.m.. He will answer all your questions, tell you about the Casino and the fun everyone has there each night! Stick around, because RJ will have some special prizes for those attending. At 10 p.m., it's time to move to the Casino Lounge, where the QRJ's will be on hand to play games that you request in all areas of the Casino. Don't miss out on a chance to win thousands of Q-Chips!

Stay Up Late For Insomniac Bingo's First Anniversary!

Insomniac Alert! Prepare yourself to spend two nights celebrating with QRJ Annie and QRJ Angel! They will be throwing a party in honor of the first anniversary of the late-night favorite, Insomniac Bingo. Be there Saturday, December 10th for Insomniac Bingo on a special night! The fun begins at midnight and continues until 3 a.m.. Then at midnight on the official anniversary, Wednesday, December 21, you are invited to attend the "Black tie optional, or come as you are" regular game of IB. There will be a surprise twist at this game, and some unusual prizes!



Ring In the New Year at Casinothon '89!

Celebrate the New Year with RabbitJack and the QRJs in the Casino! On Saturday, December 31, we'll be giving away thousands of Q-Chips and lots of prizes. The party starts at 7 p.m. in the Casino Lounge. First we'll play two hours of Casino Trivia — do you remember what day the Casino debuted? (Hint: Fools celebrate this day every year).

Then, to properly usher in 1989, we will move to the Bingo Parlor for two hours of Double BoNkErS, where the winning player receives 200 times the bingo number that wins the game! Bring your wheelbarrow to cart away all the Q-Chips you could win.

After you have recovered from the shock of winning so much, it's on to BlackJack for another two hours. Then to properly end the evening's frivolity, a final two hours of non-stop Poker Specials! What better reason is there to stay at home and greet the New Year?

Learning Center

Q-Link Community College Kicks Off Its Winter Term!

Registration Opens December 16

Shake off the mid-winter doldrums that come with the onset of cold weather — taking a course at the Learning Center's Q-Link Community College (QCC) is a great way to beat the winter blues! This term you can choose from 35 challenging, informative courses, including 9 never-before offered classes in subjects ranging from telecommunications to introductory German.

New Classes Include Tax Prep, Advanced Machine Languages

Fear of tax season got you down? The "Personal Income Tax Preparation" mini-course will help you unravel the intricacies of the tax code by guiding you through the preparation of a 1040 tax form and several schedules.

In the new team-taught "Tools for Society," eight QCC instructors take turns giving instruction in basic skills needed each day of our lives, from how to fill out government forms to accessing health care. And "Machine Language II" picks up where "Machine Language I" leaves off, exploring the complexities of sound and graphic routines.

You'll find course descriptions, including last-minute additions or changes to the schedule, in QCC's Information Center. There is a $15 fee for each course. Registration opens Friday, December 16, and classes begin January 7, 1989. To sign up, go to the Registration area of QCC in the Learning Center. Class sizes are limited, so make your New Year's resolution early and sign up soon!

Join the Fun at Q-Link's Winter Wonderland Party

By Our "Elf" Jules

Imagine the icicles hanging from the eaves. A full moon illuminating the snowflakes falling from the sky. Glistening trees outlining the rolling, snowcapped hills. The smell of smoke drifting from the chimneys. Carolers harmonizing in the distance. And in the windo, the silhouettes of someone stealing a kiss from another under the mistletoe.

A scene from a Bing Crosby movie? No! This is how People Connection will look beginning at 9 p.m. on Saturday, December 17, in you'll help turn People Connection into a Winter Wonderland!

To help us, post your ideas for room names for the holiday party on the Party Notions Board in Just For Fun's QSociety Winter Wonderland area. The 'Linkers with the best room names will get to be "Q-Elves" and host their own party rooms on December 17. Prizes will be awarded to the Elves and to other revelers who open holiday theme rooms at the Winter Wonderland Party.

You'd better watch out, because Q-Santa will be making his rounds at the gala, too! Kids of all ages can sit on his lap in a special North Pole room. Before you meet him in person, send him a Christmas wish letter on his own message board, also in Just For Fun's QSociety Winter Wonderland area. It's faster than the U.S. Mail! Your wish might even come true! Look for last minute bulletins of times that Q-Santa will appear in People Connection and QSociety's Wonderland throughout December.

Get out your scissors and glue and post your favorite winter scene in the Holiday QGraphics Gallery! The best QGraphics artists will be chosen to be on our committee in charge of decorating the rooms for the Winter Wonderland Party. You could win great prizes!

And what's a party without music? You can hear your favorite Christmas carols on your computer. Just download them from the Wonderland's Christmas Lyrics Library. If you know all the words, then sing along with your friends at 9 p.m. every Thursday in December in People Connection's X-Mas Lyrics Room!

• Get out your scissors and glue and post your favorite winter scene in the Holiday QGraphics Gallery!

More Great December Parties

Practice your skiing and ice-skating for the Winter Wonderland event at the Snow Sports Party on Saturday, December 10 at 10 p.m. in special People Connection rooms. Don't forget your mittens so you can train for the snowball fight! There'll be lots of great prizes to win! Check QSociety's Wonderland area for all the details.

After the Winter Wonderland party ends, it'll be time to gear up for ringing in the New Year! Join us for the All-Night New Year's Eve Bash! The champagne will begin to flow at 11 p.m. on December 31. Before you dance the night away at the New Year's Bash, post your New Year's resolutions on the Resolutions board in the Wonderland area!

Prizes for the New Year's Bash, will include free Plus hours, hardware, Q-Link mugs, duffle bags, and calculators.

And we're not done yet! In addition to QSociety's Winter Wonderland area, you can check out the Holiday Happenings area in the Customer Service Center. Send your season's greetings by ordering an online holiday greeting card. Look for software gift ideas and see how they work in time to do your holiday shopping. Preview all of the holiday events and contests, and find out what you can win!

Cast Your Vote for the Top Newsmakers of the Year

The end of the year is a good time to reflect on what news stories and people really made a difference in 1988. Who were the newsmakers? What commanded the media's attention? What were the year's most important stories?

Q-Link wants to find out what you think about the news and newsmakers of 1988. We're conducting a poll to choose a Man and Woman of the Year, the Top News Story, and the Top Sports Story of the Year!

You can cast your votes for the most influential people and most important news stories in News and Information's Man/Woman of the Year area. Does our new president get the nod from you for Man of the Year? Is your choice for Woman of the Year a politician or an Olympic medalist? Once you've got the Man and Woman of the Year nailed down, pick your choice for the most important general and sports stories of the year.

Of course, such controversial questions can't just be asked without demanding discussion! That's why the Man/Woman of the Year area includes a Newsmakers message board, where you can post a message explaining why you chose the man and woman you did as the year's most influential in the news. Be prepared for a lively exchange of opinions! The results of the opinion poll will be announced and posted in this area on Friday, January 6.

Start 1989 Right by Winning News and Information's "Resolutions" Contest

Toward the end of December many people start to feel guilty about the New Year's resolutions they should make, even if those resolutions usually fall by the wayside long before Groundhog's Day. But sometimes just making resolutions strengthens our resolve to do something about them.

That's what News and Information's "New Year's Resolutions" Contest is all about. Share your plans, goals and ambitions on the New Year's Resolutions message board in Express Yourself — if our judges think your resolution is the wittiest or most creative, you'll be awarded Q-Pons that you can redeem in the Winner's Circle for Plus time or commercial software!

For more fun and inspiration on the resolutions front, check out the QPersonalities' Resolutions in this area to see what the likes of RJScott, The Ref and Bonnie B3 resolve to do to make 1989 their best year yet. You'll find their resolutions revealing and informative!

Look for Special Holiday Message Boards In Your CitiLink Area

There's something new and different in the CitiLink area for your town this month — in addition to the usual news and information on your community's activities, special holiday message boards are devoted to seasonal themes!

There's always a lot of talk around Christmas time about the need to help others, but you can take action and make a difference by checking the Help the Needy board in your CitiLink area. This board will have instructions on how to donate clothes and food to the people who need help in your local area.

The Holidays in the "Citi" message board provides information on what's happening in your city over the holidays, and where to take the out-of-town relatives for New Year's entertainment!

If you're a QGraphics fan, post a picture of your city's skyline on your CitiGraphics message board. Winners in each city will receive Plus hours, and the Grand Prize winner will get Q-Pons to redeem in the Winner's Circle for commercial software or Q-Link merchandise!

What's Hot, What's New, What's Right for You Among The Software Publisher's Best Programs of the Season

The weather outside may be frightful, but inside it's so delightful — especially when you've got new software to try out on your Commodore! Here are some of the season's best programs, including the latest publisher releases and some top-selling favorites. Warm up your winter by getting the hottest software of the year!

Remember, once you buy, you'll find support for your programs in the Commodore Software Showcase's Software Support Center. There's support online for all the software listed in the Winter Wonderland Shopping Guide. You can get answers to your software questions and helpful tips by posting messages in the publisher's product support area message boards.

You can also upload or download games, character sets, graphics and more that you and your fellow Q-Linkers create using these software packages. There are special libraries in the publisher areas of the Support Center devoted to this purpose. And you'll meet the creators of these and other programs at People Connection Auditorium events, where you can get software advice straight from the pros!

All prices listed are manufacturer suggested retail prices.

MariaK Wins $500 in Women Today's "Independence" Contest

Congratulations to Q-Linker MariaK, who submitted the winning entry in the Independence Essay Contest sponsored by Q-Link's Women Today area!

Entrants were asked to choose 13 women who would be likely signers of the Declaration of Independence if the document were signed today. At stake: a $500 grant from Women Today to be used toward continuing education.

Maria's choice of hypothetical signers:

1) Betty Friedan — Writer, "Feminine Mystique;" psychologist, founding mother.

2) Gloria Steinem — Journalist, founder of MS magazine, prominent proponent of women's rights.

3) Bella Abzug — Representative from New York, lawyer, civil rights activist.

4) Shirley Chisolm — First black woman to serve in the U.S. Congress.

5) Barbara Jordan — Democratic representative from Texas, first black student at Boston University Law School.

6) Mary Kay Ash — Founder and head of Mary Kay Cosmetics, a firm grossing millions of dollars annually.

7) Sally Kirsten Ride — first woman U.S. astronaut to enter space, Ph.D in physics.

8) Sandra Day O'Conner — First woman appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court, former state legislator.

9) Maggie Kuhn — Founder of the Gray Panthers, a leading opponent in the discrimination against older Americans.

10) Jeanne Kirkpatrick — Academician, author-turned-public-official, former Ambassador to the United Nations.

11) Barbara McClintock — 1983 Nobel Prize winner who discovered that genes can transfer their positions on chromosomes.

12) Rosalyn S. Yalow — Co-developer of the Radioimmundassay (RIA) test, a basic tool in advanced medical and biological research.

13) Rosa Parks — For the courage she exhibited on a Montgomery bus and the example it provided others during the civil rights movement.

Again, congratulations to MariaK and the contest runners-up; Second-place winner StaceyK, who received two free Plus hours, and special mention GentleWind, who was awarded one free Plus hour!

Cast Your Votes for The Year's Best Software: Q-Link's Second Annual People's Choice Awards!

It's time once again for you to make your nominations for the best commercial software of the year — the Commodore Software Showcase wants you to cast your vote in Q-Link's Second Annual People's Choice Awards! Voting begins December 16th in the People's Choice Awards center on the main menu of the Showcase.

Enter The Voting Booth and cast your ballot for the year's best commercial programs in each of nine categories: Best adventure/role-playing game, arcade game, simulation, sports program, music software, graphics package, productivity, educational and utility software.

Voting continues through January 13, at which time the ballots will be tallied and we'll be announcing your choices for the best programs. Be part of the excitement at the People's Choice awards ceremony in the People Connection Auditorium at the end of January, where the software publishers will receive their awards and come to thank you for your support.

Your vote makes a difference, so don't forget to make your choices known when balloting begins December 16th for Q-Link's Second Annual People's Choice Awards!

Software Forum Spotlights The Best Educational Programs

If you use your Commodore for educational purposes, you won't want to miss the Educational Software Spotlight Forum on Monday, December 12 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium.

CALC PRG, coordinator of the Learning Center's Parent-Teacher Information Exchange (PTIX), will be online to highlight the best educational programs available for download in the Learning Center. CALC PRG will also discuss the benefits you can expect from using educational software, and answer your questions about PTIX. If you're interested in the effect of educational programs on learning, plan to attend!
